Exist in photographs for your family and feel as beautiful as you are!

You Are Beautiful

YOU MIGHT NOT HEAR IT ENOUGH...

That you are beautiful, that you are loved, that there is someone right now who would stare at a picture of you all day wanting nothing more than to be with you. But the truth is there are people who love you! They don't love the you that you picture each time you look in a mirror, and they don't wait to love you till you drop those last 5 pounds. They love you right now! They love the way you look and the way you love them back. You are loved for being you. It might seem crazy..

BUT IT'S TRUE!

So don't deny those that love you preserved memories of the one they love so much! You should exist in photos so your loved ones can always have a piece of you to hold close. That they may look upon your face and smile, seeing that which they hold so dear.
